THE JUG BUSINESS.

It seems hard to shut out whiskey from local option territory despite the will and wishes of the people. Every effort made to suppress its use, and every move on the part of the people to overthrow it, has been and is being met by the tactics of those who indulge in its traffic. The law recently passed by our legislature forbidding its sale and shipping into local option communities is not the panacea for the evil that our law makers expected. While the law does not take effect until the 9th of this month, yet we have been informed that no abatement in its traffic will necessarily take place in this part of the country. Information that a Kentucky dealer, one who has had a profitable business in this section, will establish a place of business in Jeffersonville and will from that point continue shipping uninterrupted. Notice to this effect is now reaching out to buyers. The law of our state is too puny to shut it out. The wit and ingenuity of dealers surpass the limits of the hopes and ambitions of local option people. We might ask why is this? What is the remedy? In our mind it can only be answered in this way, first it is due to divided action, the result of the state and Federal Government not agreeing on the great proposition of local self government. The remedy does not lie in our state laws, it can not be successfully applied by state government, it can only be secured by Federal recognition of state rights. The remedy therefore lies in our National Congress and no where this side of congressional action can the temperance people hope to win for any length of time. When congress passes a law forbidding the manufacture, sale or transportation of alcoholic drinks into local option territory, in other words when the Federal government will give protection and just recognition to local government, then and not till then will the cause of the temperance advocates be advanced. If the local option leaders, the ministers of our pulpits and the orators of every profession arrayed against whiskey will stir the sentiment of local option organizations to demand, of our congressmen Federal recognition of local rights in this one instance, then states could have their laws enforced and communities could live within the limits of their own desires so far as this evil effects their interests. Our law forbidding its transportation into local option territory is to be annulled by outsiders under inter-state transportation regulations and laws backed by Federal power and prestige. Let every advocate of temperance preach this doctrine, let every believer in the cause of temperance demand of his candidate for congress and support only those who will pledge a faithful effort to bring about such legislation and the bill will begin to roll. The remedy is in congress, the mistake is on the part of temperance people.

DEAD INFANT FOUND.

Considerable excitement was created in town last Saturday at noon, when the news spread over the city that a dead infant had been found in the alley near the blacksmith shop of J. W. Coffey.

A News representative went to the scene, finding a part of the remains of an infant supposed to be well matured. In our judgment its color could not be definitely stated, as its identity had been destroyed by decomposition.

Squire John Eubank, assisted by County Attorney G. P. Smythe, began an inquest, and several witnesses were examined. It developed from one of the colored servants at the Marcum Hotel that he found the bucket containing the remains in a lumber room, and threw it in the alley not knowing what it contained. The room in which it was found has not been occupied by any one since last August.

The inquest has not been finished, but continued until next Saturday.

There are many theories being advanced, but we do not believe there is a single person who has tangible information sufficient to base an opinion. It is an unfortunate affair, and that such a crime should be perpetrated in our town is generally regretted.

THE INFLUENCE OF HOME.

"Mid pleasures and palaces,
Though we may roam;
Be it ever so humble,
There's no place like home."

Truer lines than these never came from the pen of man, but how many of us have the proper conception of home. Are our homes merely staying places or do the individual members of the family co-operate in an effort to make this earthly dwelling place of ours a foretaste of the world beyond the grave. There are far too many homes that are unhappy because the occupants do not study each others welfare and happiness. Each think that the other should relinquish all privileges for them. Nothing but misery can come from such erroneous ideas, and to correct these mistakes we should practice self abnegation and cultivate a spirit of mutual forbearance. Parents should endeavor to make home as attractive as possible to the children that they may not be in haste to depart from the scenes of their youthful gambols until thoroughly prepared to cope with the active duties of life. Youth is a period of character formation and very few children throw off the shackles of their environment and rise from obscurity by their own efforts. The pulpit, press and school are three potent factors in awakening the mind to a conception of high ideals, but none of them have such weight as is produced by the home. If home influence is properly exerted, it has the power of awakening the most noble aspirations to which the human mind is subject. The downward path which is trodden by many of the brightest, should be a warning to those who have immaculate minds under their care.

"Train up a child in the right path and he will not depart from it," is a trite saying, but is as true to-day as ever. A true Christian home where each member of the family works together in harmony and love for the general good, is the most beautiful picture imaginable. Such a home is indeed shut out from the world of turmoil and strife and is an earthly paradise. Many times has the memory of such a home brought back the wandering prodigal from the very brink of the yawning chasms of eternal ruin. Even though his hands are steeped in guilt and his heart hardened in sin, the tide of memory will recall to his wayward heart a recollection of former happiness with great force and such an influence as eternity alone can measure.—Ex.

BLACKBURN TO OPPOSE HAGER.

In spite of repeated denials contained in press dispatches from Washington, The Herald has information from what is believed to be an authoritative source that Senator J. C. S. Blackburn will be the anti-administration candidate for Governor. It is learned that several members of the Kentucky delegation in Congress held a conference in Washington Wednesday, and agreed to lend their support and influence to Senator Blackburn in the event that he becomes a candidate.

While Senator Blackburn has said that he is not a candidate for Governor he has never said that he would not yield to the wishes of his friends, and make the race if they so desired. On the contrary he said on one occasion that he would do the bidding of his friends, and if they thought that he was the logical candidate to oppose Judge Hager and the machine he would abide by their decision.

It is known that Senator Blackburn and Senator McCreary were anxious to have Congressman Ollie James make the race against Judge Hager, and they have not yet given up all hope of persuading the big Congressman from the First district to enter the race. Senator Blackburn would only be too glad to get out of the way of Mr. James, but the latter seems to be content to remain a member of the House of Representatives. It is in the event that Mr. James positively refuses to make the race that Senator Blackburn will consent to become a candidate.

WANTS MACHINE DEFEATED.
Only recently Senator Blackburn told one of his warmest supporters, who was urging him to make the race for Governor, that he would much prefer retiring to his home in Woodford county after his term as Senator had expired. He said at the time that he believed it to be the best interests of the Democratic party that the machine candidate be defeated, but that he thought a younger man could better accomplish the overthrow of the Machine. It was then that he was told that the mention of his probable candidacy had been received with favor by Democrats in all parts of Kentucky, and he remarked that if he was the choice of the opponents of the machine and the people wanted him to be a candidate he would make the race for Governor.

Urey Woodson, Secretary of the Democratic National Committee, who left here ten days ago, ostensibly to spend a month in California, is now in Washington. He is one of the anti-administration leaders, and it is said that the object of his visit in Washington at this time is to report to Senator Blackburn the condition of political affairs in Kentucky and urge him to run for Governor. Mr. Woodson original choice for Governor, like others of the opposition leaders, is Congressman Ollie James but with Mr. James out of the way he is said to favor Senator Blackburn, who he believes could defeat Judge Hager for the nomination.—Louisville Herald.

A WARNING NOTE.

The question with the Democracy of Eleventh district is not "Who can beat Edwards for Congress," or "Who will serve best to further split the Republican party in the district?" The game of splitting and demoralizing parties is attended with danger to the "splitters."

For a period of many years it has devolved upon the Democrats of the Kentucky mountains to save their party from defeat in State elections. They have stood together like a wall of adamant, putting away all temptations and resisting all blandishments and bribes, holding in their hands at all times the fate of their party in the midst of all its great battles of the past.

Conditions have not changed. Although the Republican party of the mountain district is in sore straits, split into factions over the one question of Federal appointment, NOT ONE VOTE WILL BE MISSING AT THE NEXT STATE ELECTION.

Let no Democrat of the Eleventh district be deceived in participation in the coming Republican struggle for nomination for Congress.

The aligned mountain Democracy is the reserve force of Kentucky Democracy. It has never treated with the enemy. It has counted noses in many a memorable and decisive battle for the principles of Democracy in State government and every mother son of them was found at his post of duty. Now, of all times and seasons, is it important that Democrats of the highlands keep out of the enemy's camp.

Baits are being thrown out to Democrats here and there; debts of an unknown quantity and of doubtful value are now and then contracted by Democrats; some of them are around the campfires of the enemy in fancied security. Get you to your tents, Democrats, and build ye your own camp fires, for a real battle not a sham fight, is not far hence.—Somerset Journal.

PUT IT DOWN.

For years there has existed, for some unaccountable reason, an undercurrent of "hard feelings" among a certain class of citizens in the country districts towards the county seat and her business interests. Just why this unfortunate state of feeling should exist is hard to explain, but it crops out every now and then: Whenever there is an opportunity to "knock" against the town, there can always be found a few misguided citizens from the rural districts who are ever ready to seize it. This is all wrong and should not be encouraged. Between Springfield and the country districts of the county nothing but the kindest of feelings should prevail. The town is dependent on the country and to a great extent the country is dependent on the town. That which is of benefit to the one, is of like benefit to the other. Each has its particular office to fill, and there is no occasion for any jealousy between the country interests and the town interests.—Springfield Leader.

In everyday life we meet many people who are always ready to find fault with the actions of their fellow men. It is an easy matter for almost anyone to condemn the doings of others, and one does not need an extraordinary amount of brains to do so; yet it seems to be practically impossible for those belonging to this class of critics to do better themselves. Criticism consists not in finding fault, or censuring and condemning deeds, but in being able to discuss them fairly and intelligently, but it will relieve the Sheriffs of a good deal of work and worry.

WE PROTEST.

We desire to file our protest against the State Executive Committee calling a Democratic primary election next November to nominate candidates for the various state officers that are not to be elected until November 1907.

We protest that such a thing is a violation of all party precedent
and therefore an innovation.

We protest, because there has come no demand from the voters
for a primary a year in advance of the election.

We protest because it gives aspirants now in public office at Frankfort an undue advantage from personal acquaintance over other Democrats who may desire to become candidates.

We protest because the whole thing is concocted by a certain lot of political office holders in their own interest regardless of the interest of the party.

We protest because such an action by the party committee will demonstrate to Democrats
that it belongs to the machine and not to the party, and that such conclusive knowledge will be used to the detriment of the party in the regular election of 1907.

We protest because the nomination of a ticket a year in advance of the election is likely to result in the nomination of some men who could not possibly be nominated a few months before the election.

We protest because the great issues of the Presidential election of 1908 will be clearly defined in 1907. The Parker and the Bryan elements of the party will each seek to control the next

National Convention and the people will want to select their standard bearers from those who line up on the right side. They cannot do that in 1906 because the issues and the lines will not be clearly defined this Fall.

We protest because candidates may die, who are nominated in 1906 before the election of 1907 or they may commit some act that will render them unfit for the nomination.

We protest because such snap judgment upon the people will cause a vigorous protest and will endanger the success of the ticket. But our protest will have no effect, because the party does not belong to the people, neither do the offices, they belong to the Frankfort oligarchy.—Elizabethtown News.

DICK LEE WINFREY.

"Chief of Police R. L. Winfrey, of Dallas, Texas," said Chief Millikin to the Gibson, "was about the richest card in the Hot Springs deck."

Chief Millikin was talking to Attorney
Wade Cushing and a party of friends.

"Chief F. J. Cassada, of Elmira, N.
Y., had just finished an address at the banquet, dealing exhaustively with what he knew about farming. Chief Winfrey was called upon to respond,
but his toast had not been assigned.
Winfrey is about seven feet tall, and a specimen of the Southern Empire giant worthy of being emulated by Goliath himself. When he arose to talk it was like an uprising in the yeast, and you all know what that means. He was a target for the unmarried ladies, and when he talked Dan Cupid got on his working clothes. This does not go if he hears it."

"I have not been assigned a toast
this even," he went on in a rich Southern brogue. "I have listened to the Chief from Elmira, N. Y., tell you about farming, and heard all he had to say about his 236-acre farm. A 236-acre farm in Texas would not be big enough to let a Texas colt roll in.
About 600 miles from Dallas a friend of mine has a farm. We call it a ranch.
You travel two days to get to his station, and then you drive a day to reach his outside gate. Dah you ente, and the distance, includin' peregrinations among his English walled groves,
to the doohsteps of his house in 36 4-10
miles."

"This extravagant statement was greeted with considerable applause.
He was asked shortly after by an inquisitive citizen from Syracuse as to how many natches he had on his gun."

"Is dar a Jodge present?" he demanded, and concluded by adding that he was not being Lesowed, and wanted legal advice as to whether he had perforce to answer the question. "All I got is a smooth-bore .44. The hammer is always tied back. I simply slide my finger along the barrel and snip the hammeh athef the stwing is off, sah!"

"Winfrey and myself," said Chief Millikin, "started out early one morning to take a horseback ride. When Winfrey's horse was brought up he simply slid one leg out into the air.
It took an upward curve and finally described an aerial senicircle, reaching over the animal, and he was mounted.
We rode for about three hours, when he stopped and inquired, 'Do you all know of any stream about heah?'"

"The gang of colored children addressed said they knew of none. Turning to me, he said, 'Cunnel, I am certainly powerful thirsty. How do you feel?'"

"I feel fine."

"'Could you feel betteh, seh?"

"That's owing to condition," I replied.

"Well, sah, I am certainly the most prov'dent man you evah saw. I have those condition right heah in my back pocket!"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Band will give a concert at the

STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM.

Crush two quarts of strawberries and mix two cupfuls of sugar thoroughly through them,
letting them stand half an hour
or until the sugar is thoroughly dissolved; then put them into a large square of cheese-cloth, hold it over a bowl and squeeze as long as any juice or pulp will come through. Empty the seeds and pulp into a pan and pour on gradually about one pint of milk, stir it well through the pulp, then squeeze again through the cheese
cloth until you have only a ball of seeds left. Add to all this juice from one to three pints of cream, and sugar it until very sweet. Freeze as usual.

The game warden of New York says he is going to enforce to the letter the law against women
wearing feathers on their hats.
There is a fine of $60 for selling or wearing them. This is another case of a Legislature meddling in small matters, when there are so many large ones to be attended to. Let the women adorn themselves in any way to make themselves more beautiful. The last best gift to man should not be trampled in her right to decorate as she may desire.—

We are gratified at our wonderful success so far this season, but we are not satisfied—to be satisfied means to drift. We are not content to rest on past success. Our intention is to make The Lyon Buggy Co., Campbellsville,
not only the largest dealers and best medium to supply the trade in Central Kentucky with buggies, saddlery and harness, now an undisputed fact. But we are determined to press forward, being ever on the look out for improvements—new styles and lower prices—
that will eventually make us the leading and largest business of the kind in the State. We certainly feel very grateful to our many friends in old Adair, the home of our childhood, for the very liberal share of patronage
they have given us, and we will at all times endeavor to give such values and fair treatment if you will continue to help us. Send your friends with the assurance that we will at all times endeavor to give more goods and better values for same money and same goods and same values for less money than any other dealers in the country.

Yours to please,
THE LYON BUGGY CO.,

In the case of Clarence Page against the Executors of the estate of James M. Page, a suit brought to recover $1,800 for services the former rendered during the illness of the latter, the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,000.

We desire to extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Salvanas Wilson, of Russell Springs, who were bereft of their four year old son, George D., who died after a few hours illness last Wednesday night at 11 o'clock. The exact cause of his death is not known. He was a bright little boy, the only child of loving parents, and their grief cannot be put in words. He was also the idol of his grand parents and was a favorite of the whole town. Those whose hearts are now bleeding should go to God for comfort.

Memorial services were largely attended at Mt. Carmel and the Stone Burying Ground last Wednesday. At the former place Rev. C. R. Payne preached in the forenoon, closing about the noon hour. After dinner Judge T. A. Murrell, Rev. W. C. Clemens and Mr. A. N. Wells delivered memorial addresses. The Columbia Brass Band discoursed music at intervals. There were about forty old soldiers in line, placing flowers and flags upon the graves of their departed comrades. There was an abundance to eat and the day was orderly throughout. At the Stone Burying Ground Rev. A. R. Kaye and Dr. U. L. Taylor delivered addresses. Probably two hundred people were present. Dinner on the ground.

For the Home Coming the town of Columbia made up the money to buy badges, etc. The county did not appropriate a dollar. The sum sufficient was donated by individuals. It is expected that the people throughout the county including Columbia, will furnish provisions to feed all who will attend. Everybody come and everybody bring baskets. It will be a great meeting of old friends. Good speaking, good music and warm handshaking.

Prof. P. W. Jackman, of the colored Normal School in this town, feels much encouraged as well as complimented by the good showing made by his pupils in the recent county examination. Eight took the examination, and not one failed. Five received first class, two second class and one third class, which is evidence of good training and thorough study. Slowly, but surely, the colored people are advancing and seeking to better the condition of their race. Prof. Jackman deserves a large patronage, and it is to be hoped that the better element of his people will give such support as will forward the interest in which he is devoting a painstaking and consistent effort to establish a school of merit and better prepare the teachers who have heretofore been at great disadvantages in a thorough preparation for their work.

ELIDA, NEW MEXICO.

Editor News:

Thinking a few lines from the far southwest would be of interest to some of the readers of your paper, I will write a short letter.

I am in one of the richest valleys in the United States. We are having fine rains, making corn, wheat, oats, milo maize, Kaffir corn and all kinds of vegetation look well.

Roosevelt county is filled up with good, substantial citizens, and those who have located here mean business. As for social qualities, I have never met a more affable, social people. All are well pleased with the country, and satisfied.

Elida is coming to the front; two banks are going up, another church will be erected this Fall, and there are four dry goods stores, one grain store, two blacksmith shops, and one livery stable. There is to be a cotton gin and flouring mill erected soon. I do not know of even one case of sickness, convincing evidence that the climate is healthy.

This is a fine location for a dentist, it being 65 miles to the nearest one, and there is lots of work wanting. We have first rate stock of cattle and hogs, but horses are not so good.

There is a fine Sunday School in our locality with an enrollment of one hundred pupils. School houses are going up all over the country, and telephones are running all over our neighborhood.

We will soon have a rural free delivery. The water is splendid, and to be obtained at a depth of from 16 to 300 feet. Alfalfa grows well here. In fact, this country will grow any thing that any other country will. There were several bales of cotton grown in this country last year. There are a few rattlers here.

J. K. ROBERTSON.

Trouble Increasing.

When your trouble with food-digestion seems to be increasing, and various pains, like stomach-ache, headache, backache, etc., beset you; when your bowels and liver seem continually out of order, what you need is Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. It is safe, pleasant, and far superior to all pills or cathartic waters. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, Columbia, and Page and Moore, Cane Valley, at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

IRVIN'S STORE.

Messrs. Tupman and Blair, of near Columbia, were here yesterday in the interest of the Home Insurance Company, of Junction City.

There will be a St. John's Day celebration at Friendship on June 23, under the auspices of Font-hill Lodge, F. and A. M. Every body invited.

"Uncle Sam's" revenue men were in this part Wednesday, and we are listening for an account of their visit.

V. G. Rexroat and family have gone to Somerset to visit his mother, Mrs. James McKinney.

Mr. Oliver Marcum, of Missouri is visiting relatives here.

It was our good fortune to attend the singing at Friendship, last Sunday, and listened to the best vocal music we have ever heard. There was a large class, who have been taught by Mr.

Ambrose Smith. He is a good teacher. Rev. W. B. Cave, the pastor, preached an interesting sermon.

A Mother's Devotion

To her children is one of the most beautiful things in life. When they are sick, the wise mother, who has taken the pains to study their best interests, promptly gives them Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. It quickly relieves pain and fever, and can never do anything but good. Try it.

KNIFLEY.

A good number of our citizens attended court last week.

Mr. Bud Baily while descending a hill with a loaded wagon was hurt by the brakes giving away throwing him to the ground and bruising him and the team but not dangerously hurting either. The team belonged to C. G. Jeffries.

Profs. Cabel and Stapp will conduct an all day singing at Parnell church June 10. Everybody invited.

Mrs. Claudia Mann and daughter, Flossie, of Mannsville, Taylor county, were visiting her two sisters, Mrs. G. H. Slaughter and Mrs. A. C. Wheeler, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. H. B. Ingram, who has been sick for some time is improving.

A newspaper man is an enemy of bill board advertising on general principles, but there are times when a bulletin board may bring better returns than a paper. The editor of an exchange remarks that not long since he observed one in front of a store in his city, which read: "B4 U Buy Pants Come In and See Ours." He went in and there was not a confounded man clerk in the store, so he bought a fan and walked out.

OBERRIN, KANSAS.

THE NEWS:

On September 7th, 1905 I with my family left Kentucky for Oberrin, Kan., where we are now living. This place has about 22,000 inhabitants, 15 or twenty drays, many confectioneries and groceries, four very large dry good stores, two jewelry stores two tailoring houses and two barber shops. There is a $15,000 hotel going up and an opera-house of same cost to soon follow—the old one is not large enough. We have three schools. The main building of the high school is composed of 10 rooms. There is another large college being built. We have a new steam laundry and are going to have a new tobacco factory. We have only one very small jail as that is all that is needed. Dwelling houses are very nice and carpenters are kept very busy—I have about $3,000 worth of work a waiting me now. Farmers are very wealthy and land produces 40 to 45 bushels of corn and 60 bushels of wheat per acre. Our two stock yards have 1,600 cattle at present and ship 60 to 60 carloads to Kansas City each week.

Outwits The Surgeon.

A complication of female troubles, with catarrh of the stomach and bowels, had reduced Mrs. Thos. S. Austin, of Leavenworth, Ind., to such a deplorable condition, that her doctor advised an operation; but her husband fearing fatal results, postponed this to try Electric Bitters; and to the amazement of all who knew her, this medicine completely cured her. Guaranteed cure for torpid liver, kidney disease, biliousness, jaundice, chills and fever, general debility, nervousness and blood poisoning. Best tonic made. Price 50c at T. E. Paul's Drug store. Your correspondent had the pleasure of being present and partaking of an elegant surprise birthday dinner which was given to Judge D. G. Shepherd at the home of his eldest son, Mr. Thos. Shepherd. It was Judge Shepherd's 74th anniversary and all his children were present and helped to prepare the dinner except one who was detained at home on account of sickness. It was a day that will long be remembered from its great enjoyment, so many of his children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, relatives and friends being present. After the beautiful dinner was served the young folks enjoyed themselves in vocal music, Prof. Smith leading the choir. The older folks enjoyed themselves in Godly conversation. Uncle Gaiher was born May 28, 1832, making him 74 years old. He is enjoying good health which we hope will continue during his old age. He served his country as Captain in the civil war and is a great hunter.

Long Tennessee Fight.

For twenty years W. L. Rawls, of Bella, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes: "The swelling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Buckle's Arnica Salve to the sore surface; this caused the soreness and swelling to disappear, never to return." Best salve in existence. 25c at T. E. Paul's Druggist.

U. S. WAR SLOOP JAMES-TOWN, AT THE JAMES-TOWN EXPOSITION

Her Guns are no Longer Trained On Sewell's Point, Where the Exposition is to be held

NOW IN MARINE HOSPITAL SERVICE

[By Charles Fredrick Stansbury]
Norfolk, Va.,

Peaceful and beneficent, the United States sloop of war, Jamestown, lies off Sewell's Point where a multitude of men are building the exposition to commemorate the nation's birth at Jamestown.

Exactly forty-four years ago this famous war sloop lay in the same spot and threw red hot shells from her twenty guns at the fortifications thrown up by the Confederates on the beautiful spot where the exposition is now rapidly assuming shape. Peaceful and smiling with her beauty as the scene now is, it requires an effort of the imagination to recall the unhappy days of yore.

The sloop Jamestown is now in the marine hospital service as quarantine station and has been anchored for several years where she now lies.

Peaceful old age has succeeded her fiery youth, when she was one of Uncle Sam's fighters and gave a good account of herself. Visitors to the Jamestown Exposition will want to know some of her interesting history.

She was built at the Norfolk navy yard in 1844 and on the 25 of January sailed on her maiden voyage under command of R. B. Cunningham.

She mounted twenty guns which were displaced in 1861 by 20 far inspiring monsters 14 of which threw 32 pound shot.

In 1847 when the famine was raging in Ireland she conveyed a full cargo of food stuff, the gift of America to the Irish people. The sloop of war Jamestown received Alaska from the Czar of the Russians and set the Stars and Stripes over that piece of the frozen north.

Representative Harry L. Maynard, of the Norfolk district, has set his heart on having a war ship built at the Norfolk navy yard during the Jamestown Exposition. He has asked Congress to let Norfolk build another warship which he will name Jamestown.

A bad odor from a person's breath may be caused by many different forms of dyspepsia. It may be due to stomach catarrh, biliousness, constipation, or a case of ordinary indigestion. It clears all the impurities out of your body and makes your breath as sweet as the June morning. Safe, pleasant and effective. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, Columbia, and Page and Moore, Cane Valley, at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.
